

The News-Herald.

OFFICE IN POST-OFFICE BUILDING

SEPTEMBER 20, 1894

Mrs. George Gill has returned to Columbus.

Miss May Bell has returned to her studies at Amherst.

Roy Ferris has entered the Miami University at Oxford.

Misses Jane and Nellie Reece have returned from Columbus.

Miss Anna Clark has returned from her Fayette county visit.

Eddy Richards has returned to Chicago, after a short visit home.

Ladies' felt walking hats for fall and winter wear at J. C. Spargur's.

We have full line of fine millinery goods. See our stock before buying.

Mrs. M. E. Gage, of Leesburg, is in our city, the guest of Mrs. M. Mackery.

Mrs. John Barry is in Washington City, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. T. Hough.

Col. G. W. Barrere left for Columbus Monday, where he will remain until Thursday.

Council transacted no business Monday evening but adjourned until next Monday evening.

Old ladies' heavy buskins and carpet slippers. Just the thing for house wear, at Spargur's.

Frank Grant has returned to his home in Linwood, after a pleasant visit at the home of Clint Doggett.

The Citizens' National Receiver is now paying the ten per cent. dividend announced some time ago.

Bob Davidson, Esq., has been detained at home by the serious illness of his two children with scarlet fever.

The Gas and Electric Light Works will be turned over to the purchaser, Col. F. J. Picard, on the 27th.

Friend Wickersham, of the Greenfield News, was a visitor to our city yesterday, overseeing the county convention.

Don't forget to attend the public sale next Saturday at the One Price Clothing House. There'll be wonderful bargains there.

Rev. J. P. Currin, Phil Work, A. W. Downham and S. W. Hetherington went over to New Vienna Friday on Masonic business.

George Collins left Monday morning to resume his studies for the fourth year in the Ohio Military Institute, at College Hill, O.

The harvest moon, of the past week, was the brightest moon for many years, and will not be exceeded in brilliancy for years to come.

Purchasers dissatisfied with the great bargains at the One Price Clothing House special sale Saturday can have their money refunded.

Wm. Rother, of Kankakee, Ill., arrived here Saturday, and joined his wife, who has for a week or two been a guest at the home of Hon. J. B. Worley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kennedy, of Lexington, Ill., are the guests of his brother, Capt. A. A. Kennedy and wife, of this place. W. H. Kennedy is cashier of the Lexington Bank.

The successful bidders for the jail heating apparatus, Wednesday, were Sanders & Eawein, of Columbus, at even $3,600. There were eight other bids, ranging from $3,639 to $4,795.

It is to be hoped that the talk of a lecture course in this city may result in some decided action. This city should sustain a very good series of lectures and first class entertainments.

Clarence Trent, of Manchester, is the new manipulator of lightning at the Western Union office. Mr. Trent is a pleasant gentleman and we bid him a cordial welcome to Hillsboro.

The engineers have not yet made their report on the condition of the Waterworks plant and the prospects of a water supply. Mr. Flad is expected to formulate and forward a report within a week or two.

Previous to the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Conard for College Hill, Mrs. C.'s former associate teachers in the Hillsboro schools, presented her with a lovely silver dish, as a memento of their esteem.

There is no material change in the situation at the chair works. It is hoped that some arrangement may be effected by which work may be resumed, but nothing definite has yet been accomplished in that direction.

Mary E., wife of John Q. Fenner, married to him in 1861, asks a decree of divorce and a proper allowance of alimony. She says John Q. is dissipated, cruel and fails to provide for her. He has $1,000 of her money invested in his own name, which she asks the court to prevent him from disposing of. Her stories of assault and cruelty also include alleged mistreatment at the hands of her son, Jos. E.

Our county ticket is a good one.

Mrs. John Frank has been quite ill with heart trouble.

Miss Blanch Jones is a guest of Washington C. H. friends.

Before buying your winter shoes, don't forget to look at Spargur's.

Strader H. trotted a heat at Indianapolis a few days ago in 2:09 1/2.

Frank Collins was in Cincinnati Monday and Tuesday, on business.

Miss Madge Chaney has returned from a Washington C. H. visit.

Mrs. H. Davis is convalescing from her recent siege of malarial fever.

John Archer, of Lynchburg, was a guest of S. T. McMullen over Sunday.

Hon. C. H. Collins will soon have in press a small volume of his charming poems.

Allen P. West, of Washington C. H., is a guest of his son-in-law, Charlie Haynes.

Frank Day has moved to his recently purchased farm, about three miles north-east of town.

A large, new lake has been created in the cemetery, and adds wonderfully to the beauty of the place.

We have an elegant line of ladies' fine shoes for winter wear. See them. J. C. SPARGUR.

The Isaac Walton club has disbanded, and the Hill City Cycle Club will occupy the rooms thus vacated, about the first of October.

The 89th reunion to-morrow will be an occasion of great interest to all who attend. Ex-Gov. J. B. Foraker will be in attendance.

Mrs. J. M. Rizer returned home Friday, after spending three weeks with her aunt, Mrs. T. H. Dawson, at Berkeley Springs, West Va.

William C. Hull and Cecil E. Demogin were happily united in matrimony, in the office of the Probate Judge, by Esq. H. H. Maddox, a few days ago.

Mrs. Maggie L. Gregg was selected as City Librarian by the Library Board, Monday evening. There were over a score of applicants. Mrs. Gregg will make an excellent librarian.

Jim Hardin and Dick Colvin, who have been helping John O'Connell on the West Union jail contract, are taking a short vacation here, while the new brick kiln is being finished. Jim and Dick are good workers.

The chicken-brooder manufactory, of Greenfield, seems to be in trouble. Some of the stockholders are asking for a receiver. It is to be hoped its affairs may be so straightened up that it can be run on a profitable basis henceforth.

J. Y. Dean made a visit to his old friends in Kentucky, this week. He can't find a rooster north of the Ohio river, since the Maine election, and he has gone South to find a place, if he can, where they haven't all gone into their holes.

Rev. H. H. Sandoe leaves Thursday to supply vacant fields in Clark and Champlain counties, on the 23d and 30th. Hence, the appointment at Pleasant Hill, for the 23d, is recalled. He will engage to fill an appointment on Sunday, Oct. 7, at 3 p. m.

Rev. Charles Bandy and wife, of Fairfield, Iowa, who were in our city, the guests of F. F. Stevens, have taken their departure. They stopped here for a short visit on their way to India, whither they have been sent by the Presbyterian Church as missionaries.

Hettie Hudson, wife of Sol, and Peter Miner, for whom she had been keeping house, were before Judge Wilson a few days ago on a charge of living in adultery. The evidence was "powder strong," but the Judge thought the guilt of the accused was hardly established beyond a reasonable doubt, and dismissed the case.

September 25th has been set apart as a day of special prayer for mission work, and will be observed in Hillsboro by a Union Missionary Prayer Meeting, in the Presbyterian Church, beginning at 2:30 p. m. All the members of the different societies, those interested in missions and those who are not, are cordially invited.

The One Price Clothing House has and is receiving such an immense stock of fall and winter bargains that the tables and counters are not equal to the occasion. Trestles and temporary tables have been introduced. You can not only get what you want there, but the prices are incredibly low. The special sale will begin Saturday morning.

The work on the jail seems to progress very satisfactorily. The floor of each cell is made of one huge limestone. Placing these heavy rocks in position has been necessarily a slow and cautious proceeding. Twice the great derrick has given way under the tremendous strain, but, fortunately, without injury to any one. This part of the work being about completed, the progress will be more rapid. Contractor Foley is making a good job of this structure.

W. A. Rogers, of Leesburg, was in our city Saturday.

Save money by buying your heavy shoes for winter at Spargur's.

Henry Wedding is still very seriously ill, at his home on Beech street.

Uncle Abe Duckwall is recovering from the effects of a broken collar bone.

The Harvest Home services and Children's Day at the Danville Reformed Church, Sunday the 16th, is conceded to have been a decided success. The Church was tastefully decorated with fruits and flowers. An excellent programme was rendered, both morning and evening. There were overflowing audiences and good order.

It is rather a remarkable fact and one illustrative of Highland county longevity that, during the past week, two marriages were broken by death in this city, in each of which the parties had lived together in wedlock over sixty years. Capt. Gore and wife had been married sixty-two years, while Harvey Glenn and wife had been united in marriage over sixty-five years.

Prof. Harry C. Franck, A. M., will give an elocutionary entertainment for the benefit of St. Mary's Church, Thursday evening, September 20th. Prof. Franck ranks as one of America's greatest elocutionists, and those who hear the recital will be highly delighted. The Chicago Tribune says:

Those who missed hearing Harry C. Franck's Shakespearean readings last night have missed a great dramatic treat, although the Opera House was crowded. Mr. Franck has fully sustained the great reputation he brought with him.

While in New York, recently, Mr. Hirsch, of the One Price Clothing House, bought $7,500 worth of fall and winter clothing, at an average of about one-half of wholesale prices. These he got at the great auction sale of Brown, Sampson & Co. They are of the very best standards in quality, and Mr. Hirsch will give the patrons of the One Price Clothing House the advantage of his good fortune in this purchase. You can get goods at half the ruling prices at the One Price Clothing House special sale, which opens at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

The Christian Church of this city has extended a call to Rev. W. H. Meyers. It is to be hoped that that gentleman may see his way clear to accept. He is an earnest Christian and an able divine. He has held the position of State Evangelist in Colorado, and has since put in much of his time lecturing. His meetings during the past week have been largely attended and full of interest, resulting in several accessions to the church. He will preach every night this week, and those who attend will be sure to enjoy the services.

The Printers met the High School nine in base ball array last Saturday afternoon. It was a great game, but would have been still greater if Ching hadn't stopped between bases to shake hands with Rev. Taggart and inquire about the Rainboro Sunday School. That demoralized the Knights of the brass rule, and henceforth they were no good. However, the score only stood nineteen to eleven in favor of the High School nine. That wasn't bad. The event has proved Brunner a gallant smasher, Burns a lightning short stop rooster, and Mills Barrere a Delsarte expert.

Under the head of a "A Curious Blunder," the Chillicothe Leader-Gazette apologizes for an error, by which it had unwittingly reversed the politics of a prominent Republican. This illustrates the human liability to err. Having thus eased his conscience, the editor of the Leader-Gazette bristles up at the News-Herald for having accidentally credited it with an item taken from some other paper. Like the Gazette, we can't explain how on earth it happened, but we're penitent and willing to take our medicine, even as the Leader-Gazette prescribes it.

Mrs. Dan Williamson loves Peter Chrissman and Peter reciprocates. She is an artless beauty and he a gay gallant. Dan Williamson has long objected to his wife's fondness for Peter, but she has snatched her fingers in Daniel's face and given him to understand that he can go to the demitition bow-wows or any other sea port, so long as Peter doesn't go back on her. This state of affairs led to an exhibit of hostilities on Ripley Hill Saturday night, when Peter drew a gun on Daniel. His Honor, Mayor Davis, investigated matters Monday morning and bound Chrissman over to Probate Court in the sum of $100.

There is a poet named Kinsella, the Charlie Collins of Chicago, whose soul is always breaking forth in melodies over the beauties of nature and art. In a recent number of the Inter-Ocean, he tells a rapturous song over the memories of his old home on the banks of the Ohio river. But for its length, we should be glad to reproduce the poem. After all, however, it could only be truly appreciated by those who have waded barefooted in the rippling waters, "chawed green apples" on the shore, or ridden mountain high on the roaring crest of a tow-boat's swell. God bless Kinsella, for the happy reminiscent panorama his poem calls to view.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

RAINBIDGE OBSERVER.

The wife of John Schneider, who lives on Molhon Ferneau's farm, west of town, was bitten on the middle finger of her right hand last Wednesday, by a copperhead snake, which was hidden under one of the vines. Mrs. Schneider at once realized what had happened to her, and with rare presence of mind, tightly bound a kerchief about her wrist, completely stopping the circulation in the arm and preventing the poison from the injured finger becoming circulated through her system. A messenger was hastily sent to town for Dr. Dawley, and while awaiting his arrival the lady drank whisky freely. Upon his arrival the doctor found Mrs. Schneider suffering terribly from the effects of the bite and the whisky she had drunk. He applied the remedies known to the medical profession, and at last reports the unfortunate lady was resting as quietly as could be expected, and the doctor says she will recover.

WASHINGTON C. H. HERALD.

Home grown water melons and muskmelons were never plentier or cheaper than they are here at the present time. Tomatoes only twenty-five cents a bushel. There never was a famine in Fayette county. They always raise something, while in many parts of this State and other States there are frequent failures in farm products. Our wheat yield was very large, and our corn crop is good.

Mrs. Oscar Morgan, aged 40 years, and Mr. Henry Baughman, aged 78 years, took their first ride on the cars on Thursday last week, going on an excursion from Williamsport, Pickaway county, near which place they live, to Dayton.

Superintendent F. C. Smith, of the Water-works, is working every minute to obtain a sufficient water supply. The company have now four drilled flowing wells and four dug wells, all supplying a large quantity of water, but the work will continue until a water famine will be an impossibility. The company has adopted a new plan for utilizing the water from the drilled wells by sinking a well some six or eight feet in diameter and thirty feet in depth around the pipe of one of the drilled wells, then walling with brick, after which a couple of sections of pipe were removed and the water allowed to flow in at the bottom of the well, making a large reservoir of the purest and clearest water that can be obtained anywhere. This plan will, no doubt, be carried out with the other three flowing wells. The first dug well is being enlarged to twenty feet in diameter, made deeper and walled with stone.

LEESBURG BUCKEYE.

Wm. Easter died at the home of his parents, a mile south of this place last Friday, after a brief illness of typhoid fever. Easter was the young man, who four or five years ago, accidentally shot a son of Moses Milner while the two boys were out hunting. He had brooded a great deal over the accidental killing of his friend, and it seemed the thought of it almost overshadowed every thing else. The funeral services were held at the residence, conducted by Rev. M. Redkey. Interment at Hardins Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Chas. Page, of Clinton, Ill., and Miss Ruthie Huff, of Hardins Creek, visited Miss Sallie Small, of Hillsboro, on Friday last week.

Charles Rogers is in Hillsboro this week on business.

S. H. Spencer, of Hillsboro, was in our city on Tuesday.

J. R. Horst, of Hillsboro, transacted legal business in this city last Tuesday.

CIRCLEVILLE UNION HERALD.

A very large flow of gas was struck Saturday on the George Pannabecker farm, at Sugar Grove, Fairfield county, by the Fairfield Gas and Oil company. At a depth of 450 feet, considerable gas, with a slight showing of oil, was struck, in the Berea Grit. The Niagara Limestone was reached at 1,300 feet, and when 40 feet in the stratum, a vein of oil was developed; but it was not of sufficient size to pay, producing only four or five barrels a day from the bailer. At midnight Friday, the driller struck through the hard cap which covers the Clinton rock, at 2,150 feet, and a rush of gas responded so suddenly that there was barely time to extinguish the lights before the derrick was enveloped in gas. Work was then suspended until day light when it was resumed, and the flow of gas steadily increased until noon, at which time it became so great as to force the massive tools out of the well, and work had to be finally discontinued, at a depth of about 5 feet in the Clinton rock. The well measures five million cubic feet a day, and its roaring can be heard a long distance away. The rock pressure is over seven hundred pounds to the square inch, and the well shows itself to be a "gusher" of the first class in every respect.

G. W. Barrere, proprietor of the Hillsboro News-Herald, with his wife and little grand-daughter, Margaret Barrere, visited their son, Elgar Barrere and wife, several days, returning home Monday.

NEW RICHMOND INDEPENDENT.

Wm. Fickelheimer, the veteran one-armed "sherman, caught a yellow cat fish last Saturday that weighed 109 pounds. He caught it on a 5.0 hook, with a double staging line and was fully an hour in landing it safely. The flesh of the fish was tender and sweet as that of a small fish, and cut nicely into broiling steaks. The head of the fish weighed 9 1/2 pounds.

CHILLICOTHE LEADER-GAZETTE.

The friends of Mr. Ed. Meek will be interested in learning that he has given up his music classes here and in Washington C. H., and has gone to locate for the winter, at least, in LaFayette, Ind. He was urged to come out there and get up a class and finally concluded to do so, going out last week.

GALLIPOLIS JOURNAL.

A funny thing happened out in Green township the other night. Mrs. D. M. Smeitzer visited a sick sister, leaving Doc to keep house. One morning Doc arose from bed and went out to attend to farm matters, when the girl that does the housework went into Doc's room to make up his bed. In a few moments she ran out, screaming at the top of her voice that she had found a snake in the bed. Doc hastened to the house and found he had been sleeping all night with a house snake three feet long. He sent for his wife as soon as possible, and hasn't felt well since. Doc don't drink a drop. He was in his right mind, and this is a plain, unvarnished, true tale.

At the Manchester fair next week they have it set up to beat Pink Wall's circus or break a lame string. A man is to be fired out of a cannon, and after rising to a height of 3,000 feet will descend in a parachute. Nothing like the encouragement of agriculture. When farmers learn how to do these kind of tricks, they will be able to raise more potatoes than a skinned "hoss." Mr. Wall must look to his laurels.

Death of Capt. Gore.

Capt. Joshua Gore was born in Frederick county, Virginia, on the 28th day of April 1806, and died at his residence in Hillsboro, Highland county, Ohio, Friday, the 14th day of Sept. 1894, at 11 o'clock, a. m. He was married to Miss Margery D. Lockhart April 16, 1833, and to them eleven children were born, four of whom, namely, John M., of Jasper county, Missouri, Charles H., of Georgetown, Ohio, Thomas P., of Hillsboro, O. and George K., of Kansas, and his estimable widow, of Hillsboro, O., survive him.

He was by profession a civil engineer and surveyor, and was one of the original engineers on the Chesapeake & Ohio canal, on which he began in 1829 and continued twelve years. During this time he was also employed as engineer on the B. & O. R. R., in charge of the construction from Point of Rocks to Harper's Ferry.

In the year 1842 he removed with his family from Virginia to Ohio, and settled at Loudon, in Adams county. He was the engineer and superintendent of free turnpikes in Highland county.

In 1861-2 he commanded a company in the 60th Regiment, O. V. I., in the war of the Rebellion; and in 1863 commanded Company D, 4th Independent Battalion, O. V. C., which was merged into the 13th Regiment O. V. C. as Company C.

In 1865-6 he served as Probate Judge of Adams county. He removed to Hillsboro, Ohio, in 1872, where he died.

Capt. Gore was reared in the Society of Friends, and during his residence in Ohio, joined the M. E. Church, at Loudon. In all the relations of life, social, business, political and official, he was affable, kind, faithful—a perfect type of the cultured Christian gentleman. His remains were taken to Loudon, Ohio, for interment where five of his children are buried.

A deaf mute struck this office yesterday. He first stopped in at Cooper's cigar store and inquired in good United States, key G, for the print shops of the city. Having got his bearings he steered straight for the News-Herald, and in the short space of one square was stricken deaf and dumb. Poor devil, we all pitied him, and he went away with a little more loose change than he brought in. But hardly had he departed until light dawned upon some of his victims, and before "Tim McBride" could do the other print shops they were put onto him. He is not a printer, and neither is he deaf or mute. We trust our exchanges will keep an eye open for the silent young man.

Reunion 60th O. V. I.

The first reunion of the 60th Ohio Volunteer Infantry will be held at Fayetteville, Brown county, O., September 29th, 1894. All members of the regiment who can attend will please notify the Secretary, P. P. Hadley, Lerado, O.

National Flour.

Richards & Co.'s National Flour contains all the nutritious properties of the grain, and bread made from the flour is white and retains its moisture.

There is tall timber in eastern Kentucky. The Portsmouth Tribune says: "Will Brown, a young cattle dealer from Carter county, Kentucky, was in the city, Thursday, accompanied by an older but smaller brother. Will who is but 19 years of age is six feet seven inches tall. His little brother, Charlie, who is the oldest and smallest in a family of four is six feet two inches tall."
